Before normalization

After normalization

Supplemental Figure 1. Normalization of microarray data (MA Plot).
Raw microarray data were processed by conducting within-slide and inter-slide normalization of signal intensities using the LOWESS curve-fitting method in Bioconductor. After normalization, the data were evenly distributed.