Figure S4: Principle components analysis of the UniFrac statistic for each arm of each subject. Percent variation explained by the first three principle components is represented on the x and y axes.