

Supplemental Fig. S1

Schematic human chromosomal map including the positions of presence/absence markers.

The wide variety of chromosomal locations are evidence for the independent integration of the retroposed elements investigated. The gray, orange, and black circles representing the markers refer to the three supported hypotheses, Exafroplacentalia, Epitheria, and Atlantogenata, respectively.