Supplemental Figure S9 (related to Figure 7): Number of clusters that are obtained for different parameters of C2H2-ZF proteins using different clustering methods. In each case, the largest number of clusters that results in 95% of the maximum silhouette value is shown.