

Supplemental Figure 7: Comparison between the predictions of human-trained models that were trained without examples overlapping SINEs (x-axis) to the predictions of standard human-trained models (y-axis). Unbound Alu repeats make up a large part of the false positives unique to the no-SINEs model. For visual clarity, only 5% of windows are shown.